Art Unit: 3751

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. No support is found for, "the real object is not appreciable," added to the last line of claim 1.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 5-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by

The "Forum" of page 11.14, the "portico of page 11.12 and the "Senza" of page 11.17 of the Kohler. Com brochure.

The K-703108-P3-BH of page 11.14, the K-704124-A2-SH of page 11.12 and the K-704224-D2-SH provide full response here in that each show bypass shower doors with design features which will inherently cooperate to depict a different design when the doors are made to partially or fully overlap. As to the recitation of a "real object," it is submitted that each door possesses a depiction of a real object and that a different real object is "appreciable," when the doors overlap and the claim 8 progressive nature of the latter is readily discernable upon casual observation.

The claims 5 and 6 features are options clearly depicted herein and claim 7 is depicted in each, as well.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the art as set forth supra.

The respective images of claims 2-4 differ from the cooperating images of Kohler only in matters of design and printed matter and as such fail to unobviously patentably define thereover. Kohler provides cooperating opaque and transparent schemes on his closures and any chosen scheme here would be obvious thereover.

Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the Kohler.com art as applied supra in view of Faragher, Jr.

To the extent that the designs of the respective doors of the former would not be deemed to suggest cooperating depiction of a "real object," it would have been obvious to design them as taught by the latter at col.2, lines 47-54 as Faragher teaches a like art environment.

Submission of the Kohler.com prior art with the 8/22/05 communication is noted with appreciation.

Any inquiry concerning this communication should be directed to Charles E.

Phillips at telephone number 571-272-4893.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
